JUSTICE AND TRUTH

- The true philosopher alone is awake. How does he see justice and injustice?
- Why does Plato relate Being and non-being to justice?
- What is the supreme good?
- What is truth?

PLATO SUMMER SCHOOL

“Sitting by a lake, it became very clear to me that there was such a thing as truth and there was such a thing as justice and that they could be found and being found they could be taught. It seemed to me that was the most valuable thing that one could pursue.”

Leon MacLaren
